

Amy Richards

Featured Artist

Amy is a professional watercolor artist and instructor living and working in Raleigh, NC.

Her work is inspired by the incredible natural beauty of North Carolina. She works from her home studio along with her 3 assistants, her dogs Brisbee, Cricket, and Sid. As a teacher, she strives to make watercolor more approachable for her students by developing lessons that help them to flourish within their own practice. Amy works with the local Durham, NC body care company Lo and Behold naturals, creating watercolor botanicals for their labels. Her love of animals shines through in her depiction of pets, capturing their true personalities for her clients. Amy's stationery line can be found online and in a variety of shops throughout the US.
